

LIGHTS IN THE TUNNEL.

Incandescent lights have been placed in the darkest part of the Fourth Avenue Tunnel—between Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh streets. They are of about forty-candle power and strung 140 feet apart. This is the New York Central's first experiment at tunnel lighting. It demonstrates one thing that the Company has hitherto denied, which is that the colored signal lights are not obscured. It also shows the absolute necessity for better ventilation.

A representative of THE EVENING WORLD visited that portion of the tunnel this morning, and observed that after the passage of a train neither the electric lights nor the signal lights could be seen at a distance of forty feet, owing to the smoke and steam from the locomotive.

The experiment is also good, inasmuch as the New York Central has been finally made to realize that something must be done, and is the first earnest of victory for the side which THE EVENING WORLD is championing. What is gained in knowledge by these experiments will prove of great service in the instance of the passage of the Sulzer-Byrne bill, which makes the ventilation and lighting of the tunnel mandatory.

After the collision of Sept. 23, 1892, although held responsible for the resulting deaths by the Coroner's jury and directed to ventilate and light the tunnel by the Grand Jury, this corporation remained absolutely passive until another accident with greater loss of life aroused the public's indignation. This is the strongest argument for compelling the ventilation and lighting of the tunnel.

THE SEARCH-LIGHT OF THE PRESS.

A most bold conspiracy to defraud has been frustrated, and through the publicity given by the newspapers. It is one more illustration of the fact that the press is the best protector of the people's interests. A man known as unmarried died leaving a fortune of two million dollars. Before his division among his heirs a lawyer appeared with a woman whom he alleged was the dead man's wife, and put her in her claim for part of the estate.

Taking advantage of the statute which in this State holds as marriage the living together of a man and woman and his acknowledgment of her as his wife, a chain of evidence was worked up. The relatives were aghast, and a suggestion for a compromise was seriously considered. Then a bright newspaper man discovered the plot, and it was exposed in THE WORLD. The woman was a frequent of low resorts and had been hired for the occasion, the lawyer and two other conspirators furnishing the money for the deception.

The boldness of the scheme is startling, and suggests the lengths to which the unprincipled may go. Had not the light of publicity been thrown upon this conspiracy it would undoubtedly have succeeded, and not only would the heirs of the millionaire have been defrauded of an enormous sum of money, but a good man's fame had been smirched. The conspirators fortunately are all under arrest, and their punishment may prove a warning to others of their ilk.

THE G. A. R.'S SILVER JUBILEE.

The Grand Army of the Republic celebrates to-day the first quarter of a century of its existence. From the most modest beginning in 1866 the organization has grown to majestic proportions. It has not stopped growing yet, and if this year's meeting of its ranks is in keeping with the rate of increase in the past the next June meeting of the G. A. R. will number close on to half a million members.

Such vitality in a body of which the corner-stone is strong National feeling is cause for pride. The annual expenditure from its relief fund is about a quarter of a million. Its records show a disbursement of over two millions since its inception. The Grand Army of the Republic may then well celebrate this twenty-fifth anniversary of its hardy existence to-day, when it can look upon 7,178 posts, scattered through forty-four States and Territories. It shows no sign of decay and has no means run its course.

A new variety of strike is now going on in Berlin. The doc-catchers claim that they are underpaid. Hereafter they have received 12 cents per day; now they want 25 cents. Their demand has been refused, and the outcome is being watched for with interest.

Is it not strange that peaceful and respectable citizens, after leaving their bodily form, should return to do card tricks, slate writing and the like? The Adelphi Hall scene yesterday might be thought over carefully by those believing in Spiritualism.

The man who tried to force Italy into war with the United States formerly controlled the Mafia and owes to it his political advancement. To the contrary notwithstanding, our Constitution has something to offer him.

President Harrison's trip across the continent is said to be mainly for the gathering of points for a platform. He wants to cut his coat according to the cloth.

Puzzled ELLINGER, who so brutally chopped his wife to death in Jersey City, says he "is willing to hang." The public is quite willing that he should.

The Farmer's Alliance "intends to have reform or know the reason why." If it is for good, so ahead by all means.

What the South needs is capital and to let alone" is Senator GORMAN's conclusion after his trip through that section.

ROSWELL P. FLOWER sometimes spends hours at the game of euche. Perhaps he is practicing up for JONES.

England is holding fault with our Constitution. But we can manage to get along with it for the present.

A six months' trial of the McKinley tariff shows higher taxes and a diminished surplus.

A momentous question—What is to be done with JOHN L. DAVENPORT?

Baron FAVA is still in Washington.

THE CLEANER.

In an up-town hotel there is a neat device for lighting cigars. It is the bronze figure of a boy with a stick in his hand. You take the lighter and rub the tiny brush of exceedingly fine wire at the end of the stick and the light is there. There is a little battery, and the electric spark generates the light. It was an interesting cigar lighter.

A new theatre, a new hotel or a new show place—when will the time come that New York will not hold out promise of patronage to them? Let a new one open and it is closed at once. Of course the town is growing constantly. Then theatre-goers in these days of long runs of plays and themselves too soon at the end of their ticket and are glad to find a new play-house to add to the list. But the theatre, the hotel and the lunch counters all flourish, which is proof enough that the new ones are not superfluous.

I regret to see that Dr. Fordyce Barker is not fully equal to the demand made upon him for professional services. Much of his work has to be delegated to his assistants. Dr. Barker's fine old age is still vigorous, however, and he is not lessening himself with a consideration worthy the patient and the physician.

F. J. Allen, of the Astor House, is as comfortable a hostess as the town affords. I saw him in the corridor of his famous caravansary a few days ago, and he looked a stranger to the grip of any of the evils which mar this subterranean city. He is a man of only one vice, and a good preservative. I hope he has not gotten the grip disease.

The importunate calm with which Mr. Charles Cook moves about creates the impression that whatever may be the thoughts or feelings in his mind in regard to a Treasury position, he does not abstract anything from his hours of sleep to indulge in them. And I do not think he does.

A paper devoted to the interests of letter-carriers has made its appearance. It is called the Mail Coach, and judging from its first number, it promises to be an interesting and chatty periodical. It is to be issued every two weeks.

What a notorious influence style has in making a fashion and dress attractive or the reverse, quite independently of prosperity, distress, or elegance in the thing itself. It is a fact that the most successful of the street sweepings are the most successful of the street sweepings. It is a fact that the most successful of the street sweepings are the most successful of the street sweepings.

A Summer school of Art has been projected by Mr. W. S. Hoyt, and she is seconded in her scheme by Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Belmont, Mr. W. Vanderbilt, Mr. Austin Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie, Mr. Stanford White and a number of other equally well-known men and women. The teachers of the new Summer school are to be Miss Lydia T. Emmet, and Mr. W. M. Chase. Two large farm-houses, commanding a fine view of the ocean, have been engaged, and in these art studios will find good looking and food at a low price. And the belief is that the pupils will progress much faster in out-of-door study than in a studio.

Bonnet pins are more popular than ever. The designs are quaint but very small, and some good stones are used in the setting.

In knock-knocks work is much admired. Capabilities with several lights, toilet mirrors, set in handsome frames, with candle holders above and on each side; ball door bells (in imitation of old ones), and handles to white enamel furniture, fire-iron stands, handkerchiefs and supports of flower vases of all kinds. A pretty design for a hanging night light glass was a large but with outstretched wings, holding the chains of the little red lamp.

The Chicago Board of Health has five women inspectors. The first thing these hygienic angels did of note was to have their pictures taken, framed in ivory and silver and presented to the Mayor and Chief Health Inspector.

Miss Eastlake the English actress is in mourning for her mother. She began her engagement as a star in the new York Theatre London last month in "The Yorkshire Lass." It is true that Miss Eastlake is engaged—engaged for an American tour beginning Oct. 5 in Philadelphia.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen. (From a letter.) Mamie Evers, of Austin, Tex., became separated from her little brother while they were out walking.

What's the matter? asked a kind-hearted gentleman, as he observed her perplexity. "I have just seen a gentleman walking around unaccompanied by a lady," said Mamie.

A Possible Case. (From a letter.) Jones—It's the most curious case on record. Brown—Tell me about it, please. Jones—Well, you see, he kissed his wife in the dark, supposing it was his sister. She kissed him, supposing it was his brother. They embraced each other for ten minutes before they discovered the fact that they were sisters. They are out trying to get a divorce for kissing each other.

This is the Season in which to purify and enrich the blood, to restore the lost appetite, and to build up the system, as the body is now especially susceptible to the influence of medicine. The regular medicinal merit of and the wonderful cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla have made it the most popular Spring medicine. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, and all humors, biliousness, dyspepsia, headache, kidney and liver complaints, catarrh, and all affections caused or promoted by low state of the system or impure blood.

For a first-class Spring medicine my wife and I both think very highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla. We both took it last Spring. It did us a great deal of good and we felt better through the hot weather than ever before. It cured my wife of sick headache, and relieved me of a dizzy, tired feeling. We would certainly take Hood's Sarsaparilla again this Spring. J. H. FRANK, Supt. Granite Railway Co., Concord, N. H.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists, $1.00 per bottle. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass. 100 DOLLAR ONE DOLLAR.

THE WAYS OF WOMAN FAIR.

Fads, Fashions and Fancies That Delight the Gentler Sex.

Gloves Seen on Fifth Avenue—Oddities in Iron Work—A Summer School of Art—Crepe as Serviceable Fabric—Miss Eastlake in Mourning.

A great many girls are seen on Fifth Avenue morning and afternoon beautifully dressed in white kid, attired with black or violet braids.

There are 500 different shades of sewing silk in the complete stock of New York merchants.

Some of the sweetest English walking hats have a single rosette or a single stiff quill for trimming. They will be much worn for spring shopping and travelling.

Crepe is the most serviceable fabric in the market as well as the most artistic and least weighty. They wear like gunny, never crumple and are the artist's choice. That they will be worn for travelling there is no doubt. When Sarah Bernhardt came to America, she was dressed in a short toilet of wine-colored crepe trimmed with narrow watered ribbon and she looked like a rose.

A Summer school of Art has been projected by Mr. W. S. Hoyt, and she is seconded in her scheme by Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Belmont, Mr. W. Vanderbilt, Mr. Austin Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie, Mr. Stanford White and a number of other equally well-known men and women. The teachers of the new Summer school are to be Miss Lydia T. Emmet, and Mr. W. M. Chase. Two large farm-houses, commanding a fine view of the ocean, have been engaged, and in these art studios will find good looking and food at a low price. And the belief is that the pupils will progress much faster in out-of-door study than in a studio.

Bonnet pins are more popular than ever. The designs are quaint but very small, and some good stones are used in the setting.

In knock-knocks work is much admired. Capabilities with several lights, toilet mirrors, set in handsome frames, with candle holders above and on each side; ball door bells (in imitation of old ones), and handles to white enamel furniture, fire-iron stands, handkerchiefs and supports of flower vases of all kinds. A pretty design for a hanging night light glass was a large but with outstretched wings, holding the chains of the little red lamp.

The Chicago Board of Health has five women inspectors. The first thing these hygienic angels did of note was to have their pictures taken, framed in ivory and silver and presented to the Mayor and Chief Health Inspector.

Miss Eastlake the English actress is in mourning for her mother. She began her engagement as a star in the new York Theatre London last month in "The Yorkshire Lass." It is true that Miss Eastlake is engaged—engaged for an American tour beginning Oct. 5 in Philadelphia.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen. (From a letter.) Mamie Evers, of Austin, Tex., became separated from her little brother while they were out walking.

What's the matter? asked a kind-hearted gentleman, as he observed her perplexity. "I have just seen a gentleman walking around unaccompanied by a lady," said Mamie.

A Possible Case. (From a letter.) Jones—It's the most curious case on record. Brown—Tell me about it, please. Jones—Well, you see, he kissed his wife in the dark, supposing it was his sister. She kissed him, supposing it was his brother. They embraced each other for ten minutes before they discovered the fact that they were sisters. They are out trying to get a divorce for kissing each other.

This is the Season in which to purify and enrich the blood, to restore the lost appetite, and to build up the system, as the body is now especially susceptible to the influence of medicine. The regular medicinal merit of and the wonderful cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla have made it the most popular Spring medicine. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, and all humors, biliousness, dyspepsia, headache, kidney and liver complaints, catarrh, and all affections caused or promoted by low state of the system or impure blood.

For a first-class Spring medicine my wife and I both think very highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla. We both took it last Spring. It did us a great deal of good and we felt better through the hot weather than ever before. It cured my wife of sick headache, and relieved me of a dizzy, tired feeling. We would certainly take Hood's Sarsaparilla again this Spring. J. H. FRANK, Supt. Granite Railway Co., Concord, N. H.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists, $1.00 per bottle. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass. 100 DOLLAR ONE DOLLAR.

GREEN'S BIG PLAN INDORSED.

Bill to Add Brooklyn and Six Other Towns to New York.

The Greater New York Commission Votes for the Biggest City in the World.

The Municipal Consolidation Inquiry Commission met at 11 o'clock to-day at 214 Broadway, in the office of Andrew H. Green, the father of the scheme for uniting New York with Kings, Queens, Richmond, Westchester and Suffolk counties into one grand metropolitan city.

A communication was received from Paul H. Kretschmar, Supervisor-at-Large for Kings County, throwing cold water on the idea. The letter is a very long document.

Mr. Kretschmar says that notwithstanding the well known attitude of the President, Vice-President and other members of the Commission in favor of the consolidation of the city of New York, Brooklyn, Long Island City and other adjacent territory under one municipal government, his convictions compel him to take a stand directly opposite.

My views on the question of annexing adjacent territory to our large cities are decided and are best illustrated by quotations from my annual addresses before the Board of Supervisors of the County of Kings in January, 1890, and January, 1891, "were the supervisors."

I question whether the sudden annexation of all the towns to the city of Brooklyn would be of benefit to either the towns or the city. Any act of the Legislature at Albany, annexing one or all the towns against, or even without, the expressed desire of a majority of citizens of such towns, would be a direct and most deplorable attack upon the rights of individuals and a blow to the principles of Home Rule.

Mr. Kretschmar thinks that a consolidation of the city of Brooklyn with the county towns is of far more importance to Brooklyn than the proposed consolidation of New York and Brooklyn.

Neither public welfare, he thinks, nor the people demand, nor the press of Brooklyn advocate such a consolidation. In fact, I feared it.

If it were proposed to unite the counties of New York, Kings, Queens, Suffolk, Richmond and Westchester into one municipality, with the absolute power of self-government, holding a relation to the State of New York analogous to that of the State to the United States, doing away thereby with the interference of rural legislatures in matters purely local, I believe much benefit would result, and I doubt not, the majority of citizens of the territory affected would look with favor upon the idea.

The supervisors say that Brooklyn patriotism and local pride naturally abhor the idea of being swallowed up by the "greater New York," and that no such wholesale consolidation should be undertaken without the expressed desire of a majority of the people of the territory of New York.

Then he declares that the people of Kings County have no desire to relinquish the right of self-government, and that the citizens of adjacent territory to participate in the administration of affairs entirely local in nature and extent.

He believes the needs and wants of the two short cities are different, the character of the people of the two cities entirely different. New York is the bustling center of commerce, with constantly increasing population, and while Brooklyn is the quiet city of comfortable homes with a rapidly growing yet positively static population.

Mr. Kretschmar rebukes the balance of his letter by declaring that he is not a supporter of the scheme, but that he is a supporter of the people of Kings County. He says that he is a supporter of the people of Kings County, and that he is a supporter of the people of Kings County.

The Commission unanimously adopted a bill providing for the incorporation of the city of New York, Kings, Queens, Richmond and Westchester into one municipality, with the absolute power of self-government, holding a relation to the State of New York analogous to that of the State to the United States, doing away thereby with the interference of rural legislatures in matters purely local, I believe much benefit would result, and I doubt not, the majority of citizens of the territory affected would look with favor upon the idea.

LONG ISLAND ROAD NOT SOLD.

A story has become current to-day regarding an alleged deal between Austin Corbin and the Vanderbilts, by which the Vanderbilts are to have become purchasers of 300 miles of tracks of the Long Island Railroad Company.

His plan is said to be to construct a tunnel under the East River at Fort-seventh street, thereby connecting the Long Island road with the New York Central, and thus circumvent the Pennsylvania and other Jersey trunk lines now getting most of the Long Island traffic to the West, and thus facilitate the Vanderbilt scheme for a monopoly of through traffic from the metropolitan area to the West.

The scheme, as exploited, contemplates vast real estate operations by the Vanderbilts, and a development of the hills and dales and lowlands of Long Island on a magnificent scale.

An Evening World reporter called on Mr. Corbin to-day about the sale of the road to the Vanderbilts. Mr. Corbin said that he had no intention of selling the road, and that he was not interested in the matter.

Mr. Corbin has never been seen by the Vanderbilts. He has never been seen by the Vanderbilts. He has never been seen by the Vanderbilts.

Mr. Corbin has never been seen by the Vanderbilts. He has never been seen by the Vanderbilts. He has never been seen by the Vanderbilts.

Mr. Corbin has never been seen by the Vanderbilts. He has never been seen by the Vanderbilts. He has never been seen by the Vanderbilts.

Mr. Corbin has never been seen by the Vanderbilts. He has never been seen by the Vanderbilts. He has never been seen by the Vanderbilts.

Mr. Corbin has never been seen by the Vanderbilts. He has never been seen by the Vanderbilts. He has never been seen by the Vanderbilts.

FUN IN BLACK AND WHITE.

A Few Illustrated Witticisms Culled from Various Sources.

HE FOUND OUT.

Country Member G. A. R.—By gum! here I've been tryin' in a quiet way for more'n ten years to get a pension when these city fellows hang out their application on their front windows. I'll try not to let myself when I get back to the "Corners."

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

He found out.

THE STRONG PREVAIL.

The Weak Are Forced to the Wall.

Bankrupt in business and health—visions of former health and strength float before your vision. Remember that the strong prevail—the weak are crushed out.

This applies to professional and business men, clerks, mechanics, laborers. You must have strong nerves and sound health to succeed. Your nerves are weak, shattered and unstrung, you tremble on excitement, are sleepless, listless, dull and tired headed. You have Spring Debility, have poor appetite, liver, kidneys and bowels are disordered.

Get strong and vigorous in nerve and body by using Dr. Greene's Nerve, the great nerve, brain and blood invigorator, and you can easily fight the battle of life to win. It is a pure, harmless vegetable remedy, and it is the best Spring medicine in the world. Sold by druggists, $1.00.

"I suffered from loss of sleep, and became as nervous as a cat. I was entirely unable to get any rest, and was compelled to give up. In fact, I feared insanity. I used Dr. Greene's Nerve. The effect was almost magical. I could again sleep, mental composure, appetite and strength returned. No better of this remedy. I have remained well to this date. I have recommended Dr. Greene's Nerve to many of my friends, and have seen to learn of a failure to obtain good results."

"S. W. Nourse, Hudson, Mass."

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, 35 West 14th st., New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

B. Altman & Co. Parasols.

Will offer to-morrow One lot of DOUBLE RUFFLE fancy silk PARASOLS, at $2.85 each;

SOLD LAST WEEK FOR $5.50.

18th Street, 19th Street, and Sixth Avenue. (18th Street Station Elevated Road.)

18th Street, 19th Street, and Sixth Avenue. (18th Street Station Elevated Road.)

AMONG THE PLAYER FOLK.

Plaint of Members of the Emma Abbott Opera Company.

Many of the members of the late Emma Abbott Opera Company have been unable to obtain positions since the death of the kind-hearted woman who was the star of the organization. After Miss Abbott's death there was some talk of reorganization, but the schemes fell through, as theatrical schemes very frequently do. And now there is some dissatisfaction in the air, and side-glances begin to twinkle. A member of the company openly expressed his dissatisfaction yesterday. Said he: "It is not generally known that Miss Abbott, shortly before her death and when in a condition of semi-exhaustion, signified her desire that the members of her company should be paid. At least I think it can be interpreted in that way. Her manager was in the room. She gaped forth, 'I want you to say.' She could not find the sentence, and her import was clear to me. She meant that we were not to suffer the pecuniary loss that her death would entail. She knew that she was dying, and she asked later that her treasurer should be sent forth. The treasurer did not see her in time. If he had done so this might have been very different with us now. The large fortune that Miss Abbott left and the many charities and churches that she aided would surely point to the fact that she had no intention of leaving a large organization adrift in the middle of a theatrical season. She was a lovely woman in every way, charming, considerate and amiable. She is to have a monument and she deserves it."

Edmund Mortimer, the playwright, is ill at St. Vincent's Hospital in this city. Mr. Mortimer contracted a bad case of grip in Boston, where he was visiting. He is now convalescent and will probably be abroad soon.

Mr. Annie Huppert is to appear in "A dress play" at the Academy of Music once or twice this month. The play, it is explained, was written for the sole purpose of exhibiting a number of costumes in which the Hupperts are interested. Also, how few are the plays which are honest enough to confess that their efforts are theatrical. And yet half the "society plays" of to-day are nothing but dress-dramas.

The circus is causing theatrical managers to look very glum. In many houses the past week business has been very bad—many of the seats are empty, and the managers will never be cruel enough to tell which they were.

The Imperial Opera Company is going to the good high-falootin' hotel at the Academy of Music, where they will be performing the "Hippodrome" and "The King of the Horses." The company is going to the good high-falootin' hotel at the Academy of Music, where they will be performing the "Hippodrome" and "The King of the Horses."

Actor on Hialeah—He is a very excellent star. He once played Hamlet to my Rosenkrantz.

As a plump as a quail and as lively as a monkey, Maggie Mitchell still has her ability to draw. If anything, she is quicker in her sense, and more intelligent in her than before. This is the pleasing and graphic description of the perennial Maggie Mitchell, who is now in the city, and who is as lively as a monkey, and as plump as a quail or as lively as a monkey. How would Lydia Thompson like such a